This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. The National Bibliographies of the South American Republics.

Compiled by John Boynton Kaiser
Department Librarian, Economics and Sociology, the University of Illinois Library

To keep pace with the rapidly growing interest on the part of citizens of the United States in Latin American affairs, a number of our libraries[1] are making collections of material bearing upon the various activities of our Southern Neighbors. Reliable sources of information are, however, relatively few, though increasing, and the output of the press of Spanish America itself will be more and more in demand by all who are deeply concerned in the further development of international comity and intellectual sympathy between the peoples of the North and South American continents.

It is, therefore, highly desirable that from some authoritative source there be issued for the Spanish American Republics something comparable to the Selected National Bibliographies[2] pamphlet of the New York State Library in which the field of national bibliography for the United States, England and the Continent is so successfully covered.

It is to contribute in a small way toward the accomplishment of this task that this preliminary list of national bibliographies of the South American states is presented. It should be observed that this is but a preliminary list and represents South America only not Spanish or Latin America as a whole, and consequently leaves out of consideration Mexico, Central America and the West Indies. In scope it is simply a list of the bibliographies of books and periodicals printed in the several South American states, omitting histories of literature, essays, literary criticism, collective literary biography, general collections of writings and anthologies, although, in a sense, these cover the national literary output of their respective countries. Moreover, the national bibliographies of Spain and Portugal are not given, although the bibliography of South America is inextricably bound up with that of these two countries whose colonial possessions the South American states once were. For them other lists are already available and need not be duplicated in the present instance.[1]

This list includes several titles whose place here might be questioned. They are the catalogues of certain libraries, mainly national libraries, of the separate countries concerned. Such titles are not, strictly speaking, national bibliography, but the collections catalogued contain so great a percentage of the local imprints that their presence may be permitted in a list which is purely preliminary and provisional and which should therefore err on the side of inclusion rather than exclusion. All other titles more nearly subject, rather than national bibliography are meant to be excluded.

The sources used in preparing this list were the familiar bibliographies of bibliography of Courtney, Stein and Petzholt, the Subject Index of modern books, in the British Museum, 1881–1910, Peddie's National Bibliographies, Coester's Bibliography of Spanish-American Literature and Professor Hiram Bingham's valuable discussion of "The Possibilities of South American History and Politics as a Field for Research," with its extensive footnotes.

The compiler regrets that the present inaccessibility of most of the titles given has prevented him from paying proper regard to the cataloguer's art and presenting the details of imprint either consistently or with the uniform fullness demanded of the exact bibliographer.

To Dr. Alfred Coester, Professor of Spanish in the Commercial High School, Brooklyn, New York, cordial acknowledgment is made for his work in identifying numerous titles and in adding several of importance from the collections in the Library of the Hispanic Society of America.
